We wanted to point out that we changed four figures for the revised version of the manuscript. Two figures changed according to reviewer comments (Figure 6 and Figure 7), and two figures (Figure 8 and Figure 9) changed because we realized that we had not used the latest version of the database for the figures in the originally submitted manuscript version. The message of the latter figures did not change (the differences between the older and the most recent version of the database were pretty minor almost everywhere), therefore we decided to just update the figures and not change the text in the manuscript.
